

Press Release – Duisburg October 2017

Appointment of Carsten Becker as CEO of ELG Utica Alloys International GmbH

ELG Haniel GmbH is delighted to announce the appointment of Carsten Becker as Chief Executive Officer of ELG Utica Alloys International GmbH, its market leading superalloy and specialist alloys business. Mr Becker, who will succeed Dimitrij Orlov, will be based in ELG Utica Alloys' Hartford, CT location.

Prior to his appointment, Mr Becker was a Partner at global management consultancy Roland Berger GmbH, where he has had 17 years delivering improved quality, customer service and operational efficiency, within world leading businesses.

About ELG Utica

ELG Utica is the Superalloys Division of the ELG Haniel Group, a global leader in the trading and processing of raw materials for the stainless steel industry. The range of products comprises primarily stainless steel and special alloys and metals, such as superalloys and titanium. ELG is a business unit of the Haniel Group which is headquartered in Duisburg, Germany. For further information please contact: Gerhard Pariser (gerhard.pariser@elg.de) or Vera Heinz (vheinz@elg.de).